The most important task of spiritual leadership is hearing Jesus. Without his voice, our congregations are only hearing our voices. And that's not saying much. Discerning the voice of Jesus amidst the wordiness of our world is rarely a solitary act. It takes others. But not just any group of people—or even any Christian group of people for that matter—but a listening, unhurried, transformative community: I have found that at Emmaus.

As leaders, it's easy to spend ourselves nurturing others while neglecting our own soul. But perhaps one of the most important gifts we can give to those we serve is a deliberate and regular submission of ourselves into the trusted care of the Lord. Emmaus provides a profound and indescribably holy experience that brings oxygen to one's soul and cultivates deeper spiritual formation. It has been a place where I receive deeply needed rest, timely wisdom, and spiritual encouragement. Some of the most miraculous and revelatory flashpoints of my life have occurred while at Emmaus.

Spiritual Leadership Communities

2018-2020 Program

Emmaus

LTI's Spiritual Leadership Communities are unique groups of leaders who desire ever-deepening attentiveness to the presence and movement of God within their lives and among one another. Each community gathers for four topical retreats over a period of nine months, which include times of prayerful community, shared spiritual journeys, and exposure to practical resources and training. Each retreat is designed to provide a spiritually enriching environment for ongoing encouragement and growth, focused on spiritual formation, discernment, and renewal. It is our hope that by engaging with one another in unhurried, reflective/contemplative retreat settings we will develop a lifestyle of spiritual formation that will deepen our personal intimacy with Christ and ultimately impact our entire ministry context.
